New Fernwood Cove Map

One of the new additions to the Fernwood Cove website is an interactive map. The map is a cartoon version of camp, drawn by camp parent, Michael Morse— who is also the son-in-law of the original owners of Fernwood Cove. We absolutely love this map and want every Fernwood Cove camper and CIT to have their very own copy. You can find your copy on the back side of this insert. Hang it up in your room, show it to your friends and family, find your bunk, tell stories about your favorite activity area, sing your favorite campfire song...enjoy it! It's yours to keep! We hope that it rekindles past camp memories and gets you excited for the coming summer!

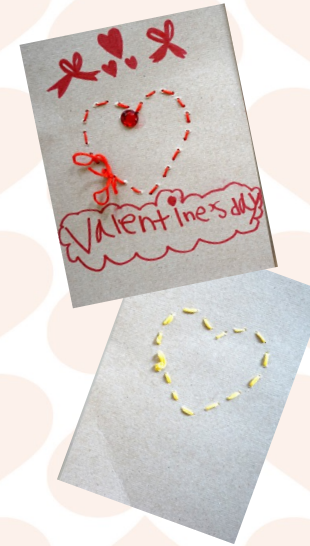

Share the Love With These Fun Valentine's Day Crafts

Easy Heart Tote

Create this fun tote bag— even make one for a friend— in an afternoon. Find the full directions and supplies list here!

Heart Cards

Use your sewing skills that you learned in Fabric Arts— or get a head start in learning new skills before the summer— and create these cute cards for your family and friends. Find the directions for the basic cards here!— and then let your imagination run wild to see what new patterns and combinations you can create!

Pink Pinwheel Cookies

These cookies look adorable— and who doesn't love cookies! This afternoon project will take some patience, and possibly require some assistance from older siblings or parents if you're a younger camper. Here's the recipe and full instructions! Try them out and let us know how it goes— maybe we can create green & white ones at camp this summer!
